

This website was designed to provide information about Maya culture during the two centuries prior to European colonization beginning in the 1520s, as recorded in the screenfold books called codices.

